In the activation code section you must enter the following code VQGRJN02-0140228-4770-1375 and it should start the game.Q: is there any way to know the name of the method that is being invoked in invokeLater? is there any way to know the name of the method that is being invoked in invokeLater or invokeAndWait? I know that it is invoked by the EDT, I mean that invokeLater is synchronizing that method. If I don't know the name of the invoked method I can't use reflection. But is there a way to know the name of the method that is invoked or any other workaround? A: You can use the Thread.currentThread() to get the name of the thread that is running the code of this method. This is wrong: invokeLater(new Runnable() { @Override public void run() { //do something } }, 1000); This is correct: invokeLater(new Runnable() { @Override public void run() { //do something } }, Thread.currentThread()); If you want to know the name of the action you are executing you can use the following: @Override public void run() { if (postAction) { postAction = false; try { //do your work } catch (Exception ex) { //handle exception } //the moment of the action is done you should set it //to true postAction = true; } } Q: How to perform bootstrap action on model binding in angularjs I need to perform some action on model binding.
